

Lucerne, Switzerland, September 03 2015

RMI Analytics AG publishes the latest edition of its Brewing Raw Material Journal.

On September 02 RMI Analytics AG published the latest bi-weekly edition of the industry acclaimed Brewing Raw Material Journal (BRMJ).

In the BRMJ RMI Analytics reported:

Global financial markets drive grain markets down.

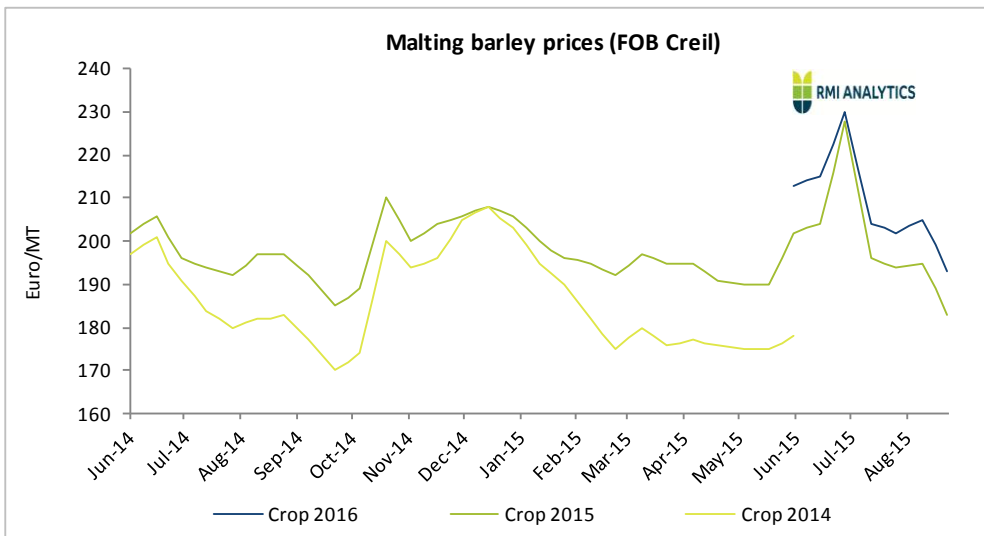

Good quality malting barley heard of from across all major EU production states.

Scandinavian and UK harvest held up again by rain possibly extending into the weekend.

Despite heavy rain Argentina's barley crops are looking good.

Falling beer demand continues while some brewers focus on meeting market challenges.

More rains come to Australia with a larger crop getting more likely.

Notes to editors

RMI Analytics AG is a Swiss limited liability company which provides market insights, creates networking platforms and offers advisory services for the barley, malt and beer industry. RMI Analytics aims to help its customers making better decision and to be recognized as the adviser of choice for brewing raw materials.

For more information concerning the detailed Journal please contact info@RMI-Analytics.com

RMI ANALYTICS CROP TOUR

SUMMER 2015

FRANCE	16-18 June
CZECH REPUBLIC	9-10 July
DENMARK & SWEDEN	6-7 August
CANADA	17-18 August
AUSTRALIA	2-4 November

Registration is OPEN!

www.rmi-analytics.com

Address:
Museggstrasse, 8
CH-6004 Lucerne,
Switzerland
info@rmi-analytics.com
www.rmi-analytics.com

FAX: +41 41 379 7741
TEL: +41 79 613 3217
03.09.2015